CLUBWOMEN HEADED BY MRS. COURT F. WOOD

MRS. COURT F. WOOD

Mrs. Court F. Wood was elected president of the District Federation of Women's Clubs at the final session of the twenty-first annual meeting, held in the vestry of the Eighth Street Temple vesterday afternoon. The ticket presented by the nominating committee was last twenty-four hours:

president: Miss Celvada W. Ford, first vice president; Mrs. Ada H. Weiss, sec-

Thirty Years in Washington.

Mrs. Wood, the only nominee for president of the federation, is a native of Philadelphia, but has lived in Washington for the past thirty years, during which time she has become actively identified with the civic and club interests of the

Mrs. Wood has served the federation as auditor, recording secretary and first vice president, and according to members of the organization was the one logical candidate to succeed Mrs. Ellis Logan, the retiring president, a judgment which was borne out by her election yesterday.

The new president of the federation is a past president of the Capitol Hill History Chub and of the Philo Classies. She is a member of the W. C. T. U., Florence Crittenton Home. Day Nursery and the Congress of Mothers.

An orderly discussion was started yesterday afternoon, just as voting was the idea of a nominating committee, and before the discussion closed it was announced that at the next meeting of the federation it will be moved that the by-laws having to do with the nomination of an official ticket by a noninating committee be repealed.

Despite this little flurry at the last moment members of the federation to-day regard the twenty-first annual meeting as one of the most harmonious and pleasing in the organization's history. A feature of the closing hours of the convention was the presentation of bouquets of flowers to Mrs. Ellis Logan. Flowers were presented by the W. C. T. U. and others, and the Sunshine Community Society presented the retiring officer with a large American flag.

Junior Roosevelt Club to Meet. The Junior Roosevelt Progressive but will hold its hird annual meet ing at the headquarters of the club, ing at the headquarters of the club, 642 6th street northeast, at 7:30 this evening. Officers will be elected and plans made for the ensuing year. The Junior Roosevelt club was formed May 6, 1912, by Charles A. McGhan, now president. Announcement has been made that any Roosevelt supporters who may wish to attend are invited to be present at the meeting tonight.

The Star's Traps May Pave Way for SAYS PICKETS HURT HIS TRADE Installation of Novel System Here.

The Star's fly traps, which are to b may pave the way for the installation which will make the markets flyless. John H. Sherman, superintendent of of markets in several eastern and western cities, found that Detroit's municisystem and that it has reduced the fly uisance to a minimum.

Under this system cold air constantly hovers over the market stands and flies keep at a considerable distance from the food. The only objection to the arrangement is that it is expensive, but Mr. Sherman hopes that its advantages may be so obvious that sufficient funds can be obtained with which to install and operate such a system in the District's new municipal market.

Traps Are Protector of Food.

In the meantime The Star's traps are to be utilized to their highest efficiency and Mr. Sherman believes that they will be a big factor in protecting food. Ten traps will be installed in the fish market, along Water street and one each in the other four District markets. The traps will be baited the evening by use of sulphur fumes or other means.

It will be several days before the traps are ready for delivery. Manufacture of the devices is proceeding rapidly at the Gospel Mission, and transient labor is being employed entirely.

The Commissioners probably will require regular reports from the markets and police and fire stations as to the catches of flies. They are much interested in the experiment the munici-

An orderly discussion was started yesterday afternoon, just as voting was about to begin, by Mrs. Mary F. Lockwood, who objected to the method of election by a nominating committee. Several other members of the federation also registered objections. It was at this juncture that Mrs. Wood demonstrated her leadership by rising and pointing out that in the morning the nominating committee, headed by Mrs. Emma Sanford Shelton, had given at ple opportunity for nominations from the floor, and that the delegates had not availed themselves of the opportunity, except in the cases of two of the offices to be filled.
